Hi Carole,

At this time, we do not have any available space. We are currently engaged in a community process to discuss potential school adjustment options across the district. We will not know what those options are until the fall of this year, and it will take additional time after that to determine the future use of any facilities.

As a result, we likely will not have any information to share regarding potential space availability until summer 2027.

Thank you,Rob

I don't think we anticipate any properties at the moment while we are having discussions around declining enrollment and school changes, however Rob Price can be more specific and follow up with questions you might have.

Given the enrollment shifts BVSD has been experiencing, I wanted to ask if the district anticipates having any properties or facilities that may become available.
