Good Morning Allie,

Thanks for reaching out. Here's how I would answer those two questions:

1. Elementary charter schools are not part of the school adjustment options currently being considered. We are focused on our non-charter elementary and PK-8 schools only
2. Increasing PK spots in elementary schools is not an option we are considering. As you mentioned, we are constrained by how UPK works and the state model. There's also significant competition among private providers which makes this more complicated than simply adding seats in our elementary schools.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thank you,
Rob
